

Suspension devices

We use Perlon cords and steel cables with various hooks to mount the pictures:

Artists are responsible for attaching a suitable hanging device to the back of the artwork before delivery. We prefer hook hangers (see image 1 and image 2). For light to medium-weight pictures, the hanger should be placed in the center; for very heavy pictures, two symmetrically placed hangers are required. Stretcher frame hangers (image 3) are also suitable, but the hooks may be visible. Standard hanging devices (Figure 4) are suitable for photographs on Aludibond. However, we cannot accept picture hanging loops (Figure 5) even for light pictures. These have not proven themselves.
